

SUMMARY

---

Jonathan is skilled in both qualitative and quantitative data analysis. He received training from the Oxford Q- Step Centre in statistical and social-science research methods, which included use of statistical computing software. He is capable of handling and manipulating complex datasets to identify trends and relationships.

SKILLS AND EXPERIENCE

---

He has contributed to the development of comprehensive socioeconomic baselines and presented findings in visually impactful ways. Jonathan is experienced at undertaking extensive literature reviews and assessments of policy context. He has worked on projects involving large private sector clients, local and regional government, and the ERDF.

PERSONAL PROFILE

---

- Hatch Regeneris, Research Consultant, 2018—Present

QUALIFICATIONS

---

- University of Oxford, BA, Philosophy, Politics and Economics